Study Flow

- Step 1: Open the matching syllabus or textbook folder first.
- Step 2: Convert this sheet into a one-page note and a short practice set.
- Step 3: Solve PYQ, mock, or board-style questions from the same folder family.
- Step 4: Add every mistake to one error log and revise it weekly.

Premium Content

- English should be revised through error patterns, not random reading only.
- Maintain one notebook for grammar triggers, confusing words, idioms, one-word substitutions, and cloze errors.
- Subject-verb agreement: subject decides verb, not the nearest noun after with, along with, together with, or as well as.
- Either/neither with singular nouns takes singular verb; either of/neither of usually takes singular verb in exam grammar.
- Each, every, everyone, someone, nobody, anybody take singular verb.
- Articles: use a before consonant sound, an before vowel sound, and the for specific/unique/superlative items.
- Tense clue words: since/for with duration often points to perfect continuous; yesterday/ago points to simple past.
- Parallelism: after than, as, not only-but also, either-or, neither-nor, keep same grammatical form.
- Pronoun case: between you and me, not between you and I. After preposition, use objective case.
- Modifier: place only, almost, hardly, merely, and even close to the word they modify.
- Common pair: affect is usually verb, effect is usually noun.
- Common pair: accept means receive, except means excluding.
- Common pair: advice is noun, advise is verb.
- Common pair: loose means not tight, lose means fail to keep.
- Common pair: principal means head/main, principle means rule.
- Idioms: spill the beans, hit the nail on the head, once in a blue moon, under the weather, by hook or crook.
- One-word pattern: fear words end in phobia; rule systems end in cracy; study fields often end in logy.
- Cloze test: read the full paragraph once, predict tone, then fill grammar and meaning together.
- Error spotting: check verb, preposition, article, pronoun, comparison, modifier, and idiom in this order.
- Daily drill: 20 vocabulary words, 10 error spotting, 5 sentence improvement, and 1 cloze passage.
- Revision loop: old vocabulary in the morning, grammar error log in the evening, and one cloze passage at night.
